Dear Josh,

Koprowski jr. has finally found his niche. I am working as an information officer for WHO. The job draws on everything I have studied to date and never ceases to be a source of fascination and stimulation to me.

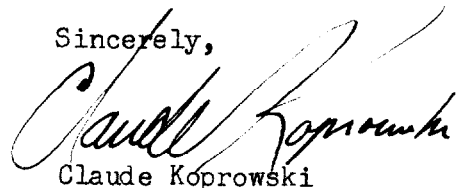

At present I am preparing the November issue of World Health. It will be devoted to the problems of human biometeorology. I have just finished reading some works which correlate birth rate, congenital defects and incidence of lunacy to the seasons.

I recall that during one of your visist to Wynnewood you regarded such findings with a jaundiced eye. Would you be good enough to drop me a short note with reference material I could consult on the subject. If what work has been done is ~~ant~~dated or incorrect would you be kind enough to let me know your own views on the matter.

Unfortunately we work on a limited timetable, and I have to have the final copy in by the 20th of this month.

With best personal regards to you and Mrs. Lederberg,

Sincerely,

Claude Koprowski
